

27 Aug - 22

Login: 9467226333

College: DCA

C.T. → Monika mam.

Date: 27/08/22

Date: _____

Page: _____

Father name: Brij Mohan Gupta

Q1

Power supply in Power supply is that unit of computer which gives computer power and help in data processing it is an output device.

Motherboard: - Motherboard is one of the main things present in computer system without the help of motherboard no computer can run. Motherboard help in performing tasks.

Q2

System software: → System software is also known as operating software. a computer can work without application software but if the system software is missing the computer can't work. eg, windows XP, linux are the examples of the computer system software.

Q3

application software

System software

→ This software used in running application in the computer

System software help computer in running without the help of system software

e.g., MS word.
// Power point are the examples of Application software

-> Application software
run Computer application effectively

-> A system can work without application software

Q

Computer can't work

e.g., Microsoft XP, Linux are some of the examples

System software runs whole system effectively.

A system can't run
without system software

4

Output devices are those devices with are connected to the Computer system Externally. They are as important as internal devices.

output devices play important role in.

- ① Mouse: with the help of mouse we can select where we want to add text. It basically work as cursor. Mouse is easy way to select, the particular thing

Keyboard: Keyboard helps in giving commands to the computer we input data into computer system through keyboard and computer system convert our raw data in meaningful information.

5

Computer Architecture: Computer Architecture of computer shows all the parts internally connected or externally connected. ~~Computer Architecture is~~

