

27/2/22

Name → Priyanka,
Father's Name → Rakesh Kumar
Course Name → DDP

Class Incharge → Diksha Mann

DATE: / / 20
PAGE NO

Ans: (1) Motherboard :- A Motherboard is the main circuit board in a Personal Computer. It contains all the circuits and components that run the Personal Computer.

Ans: (4) Output devices :- Output devices controls the input and output units. Output is a part of programs. Output devices are monitor, printer etc., plotter, speaker, headphone, projector etc.
An output device is any piece of computer hardware equipment used to communicate results of data processing software.

Ans: (3) Application Software :- Application software is the most common type of computer software that can be defined as a end user and programs and help you to programs tasks are achieved to desired outcome. MS-Word is a application software.

System Software :- System software is a set of programs, procedures, and the algorithms and its documentation is concerned with the operators of a computer.