

describe the function, organization and other computer system

A Power supply is an electronic device that supply electrical power to computer.

Motherboard is a main printed circuit board in general purpose and other expandable system.

2. System Software is software design provide to Platform for other system software.

3. application Software :- 1. we install application in computer.

2. we purchase application in computer.

System Software :- 1. we have some system software in computer.

System software is permanent software in computer.

we can touch ~~the~~ and feel the output devices. output devices is keyboard, mouse and CPU etc.

In computer engineering computer architecture is a set of rules method that