

Ans 2. The Basic functions of Memory do start all the data of Interface that use Computer Memory is the main system in computer. There are three Type of function Memory

1. RAM — Read Accessory Memory
2. Rom — Read Only Memory
3. MU — Memory Unit

Ans 1. In Computing, Memory is a device on system that is used to store the information used in a computer or related computer hardware and digital electronic devices.

Ans The Instruction cycle consists of four Phase fetching an Instruction from Memory, decoding the fetched Instruction, Reading the address from Memory and finally, Instruction execution. The computer processor carries it out.

Ans. The control unit is the central process unit regulates and Intergrates the operation of the computer. It selected the relative

Instruction from the main memory is properly sequenced and interpreted them so as to activate the other functional elements of the system at the appropriate moment.