

K4511

Sec. 2 mark ques

- 1 Reliance - The capacity of computer performed repeated repeated task without getting tired. A computer is free from tiredness and lack of concentration. Therefore it can work for hours without create any error.
- 2 Versatility -> Versatility refers to the ability of computers to perform a variety of tasks simple as well as complex. Computers are usually versatile unless they are designed for specific application.
- 3 mark ques

1 The three characteristics of computer are

- 1 Speed - A computer work with much higher speed and accuracy compared to human while performing mathematical calculations. Calculation determine how quickly the central processing unit (CPU) can retrieve and interpret instructions. The ability to process data and perform complex calculations at high speed.
- 2 Accuracy - Computer perform calculations with 100% accuracy.

Reliance - The capacity of computer performed
A computer is free from tiredness and lack of conversion